Let's Start!

You should avoid loud colors and flashy ties!

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in written and spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What do people wear to a job interview in your country?
- Do you believe in first impressions? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can make and respond to a request.
- I can discuss future plans.
- I can talk about events and experiences related to jobs.

Let's Explore!

Kristi and Adam talk about Adam's interview and the proper attire. What coordinating items should he wear?

* "Coordinating" means that they should match in style or color.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Kristi: Are you ready for your interview, Adam?

Adam: Not really. I'll be worrying about it all next week.

Kristi: Have you decided what you will be wearing?

Adam: I was thinking about wearing a solid blue shirt and grey jacket. Could you give me your opinion?

Kristi: Of course. The blue shirt is a good idea, but I don't think you should wear a blazer.

Adam: I thought I would dress a bit more casually this time.

Kristi: That's not a good idea. Remember, you have already made an impression based on how you're dressed before you say a single word to the interviewer.

Adam: Everyone at their office is dressed casually.

Kristi: For the interview, you should dress more formally than the company dress code.

Adam: Would you mind helping me choose something else?

Kristi: Sure. You need to dress in an appropriate way for the position you are applying for. Usually, this means wearing a suit. You should wear a matching jacket and pants, dress shirt, tie and dress shoes. A dark suit with a light shirt is a good option.

Adam: Ok. I think I'll need to buy some new clothes. Could you give me some suggestions?

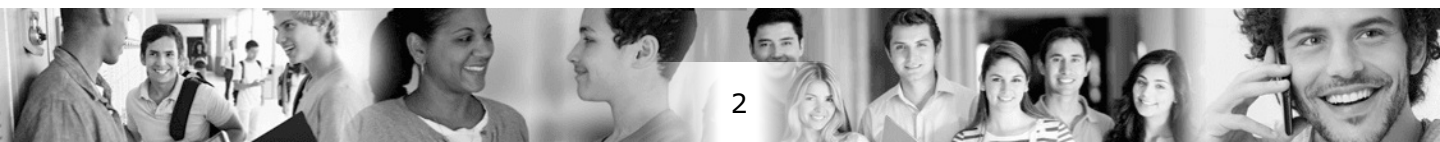

Kristi: It would be my pleasure. You should avoid loud colors and flashy ties. Also, your clothing should be neat, clean, and well pressed.

Adam: I don't have an iron.

Kristi: Oh, Adam. Maybe that was your problem at the last interview. I can lend you one, but you should get one of your own. Consider it an investment in your future.

Adam: Ok, I guess I'll be going shopping all next week as well!

Kristi: It will have been worth buying a few things if you get the job.

Let's Practice!

Target Words

- iron (noun): a heavy instrument with one flat side used to remove wrinkles from clothes e.g. This shirt has a lot of wrinkles, but I don't have an iron.
- blazer (noun): a suit jacket worn with no matching pants e.g. The blue shirt is a good idea, but I don't think you should wear a blazer.
- to make a good impression (expression): to give a sense of what kind of a person you are based only on appearance e.g. Remember, you have already made an impression based on how you're dressed before you say a single word to the interviewer.
- matching (adjective): describes something that goes well with something else because it has a complementary color or style e.g. You should wear a matching jacket and pants, a dress shirt, a tie, coordinating socks and dress shoes.
- dress code (noun): the way people are expected to dress e.g. For the interview, you should dress more formally than the company dress code.

Learning Points

The Proper Interview Attire

First impressions are important in the workplace. When you go for a job interview, it is important that you are well prepared and that you look your best.

In North America, the way you dress at a job interview can be a deciding factor in whether you are successful or not.

Here are some tips about the proper interview attire:

1. Dress one or two levels "up". In other words, dress slightly higher than what is the standard attire for the job you are applying for.
2. Your clothes should be clean and well-cared for. Avoid wearing colors that are too faded and old looking. Avoid wearing colors that are too bright or distracting. Make sure there are no stains or rips.
3. Wear appropriate shoes - and make sure they are clean.
4. Have your hair styled neatly.
5. Avoid wearing strong smelling perfumes - most workplaces are scent-free.

If you look the part, it will help you get the part!

Learning Points

The Future Continuous Tense

You use the Future Continuous tense to talk about something that will be in progress at a particular time in the future.

You use the Future Continuous to talk about future events which are:

1. expected

For example:

I'll be thinking about it all next week. (You anticipate or expect that you will be thinking about it all next week).

2. decided

For example:

I'll be going shopping all next week as well. (Based on what happened, you decided you will be going shopping next week).

Look at the chart for the structure of the Future Continuous:

subject	will + be + v-ing
I	will be going	shopping next week.
She	will be getting	ready for her interview.
