

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

How did it go?

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in written and spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What advice would you give to a friend about to have a phone interview?
- What are the top three things you should NOT do in an interview?

Can Do Statements

- I can make and respond to a request.
- I can discuss future plans.
- I can talk about events and experiences related to jobs.

Let's Explore!

Kristi talks about her job hunting experiences. She was asked a million questions - about what?

* English speakers like to exaggerate when they tell a story.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Adam: Hi, Kristi!
- Kristi: Hi, Adam!
- Adam: How is the job search going?
- Kristi: Oh, it's not easy. By the end of the month, I will have had four different interviews. Everyone expects me to have a lot of experience. They ask a million questions. I just know I'm going to get nervous and lose control. I'll have to prepare better answers for my next interview.
- Adam: Can you give me an example of a question you had problems with? That could help me.
- Kristi: I'd love to help. Questions about my experiences or education are fairly straightforward. I have a hard time when they describe a hypothetical situation and ask me how I would react. For example, once they asked me how I would deal with a journalist whom I suspected was plagiarizing.
- Adam: What did you say?
- Kristi: I didn't know what to say. Could you help me prepare a good answer?
- Adam: I can try. You could try to find proof of plagiarism before you say anything. You can find a lot of things by doing internet searches.
- Kristi: Thanks, that sounds good. Speaking of interviews, how did yours go?
- Adam: It was a phone interview! Can you believe it? All that time I spent worrying about a tie was for nothing.
- Kristi: Why a phone interview?
- Adam: I don't know. They said I could be invited to meet them for a second interview.
- Kristi: How did it go?
- Adam: Not bad, but not great. I'll need to prepare better answers for next time. I'm going to have to decide which articles I'm most proud of. Can you help me?
- Kristi: Sure I can. I'll read your articles again tonight.
- Adam: Thanks. I'm calling her next week to ask for a follow-up. I'll be thinking about what to say all week.

Let's Practice!

How am I going to feel in the future?

Instructions: Read the question and select all the correct answers.

Which sentences talk about the future?

- ☐ I'm feeling really nervous.
- ☐ I think I'm prepared.
- ☐ I'll need to prepare better answers for next time.
- ☐ I'm going to have to decide which articles I'm most proud of.
- ☐ I'll read your articles again tonight.
- ☐ I just know I'm going to get nervous and lose control.
- ☐ I'll have to prepare better answers for my next interview.
- ☐ I answered all their questions as well as I could.
- ☐ By the end of the month I will have had four different interviews.
- ☐ I'll be practicing for this interview tomorrow.

Let's Practice!

What did they ask you about in the interview?

Instructions: Read and circle the correct words to complete the sentences.

1. Questions about my experiences or education are _____.
a) fairly b) straightforward c) straight forward d) straight
2. I have a hard time when they describe a _____.
a) hypothetical b) hypothesis c) hypothesize d) situation
3. They asked me how I would deal with a journalist whom I _____.
a) suspect b) suspicious c) suspected d) was
e) plagiarizing f) plagiarism g) plagiarize
4. You could try to find proof of _____.
a) plagiarize b) plagiarism c) plagiarizes before you say anything

Extension Activity

Have a discussion!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a hypothetical problem you might have in a workplace.
- Discuss what you would do with a partner. Give each other ideas about how to deal with it.
- Share the outcome of your discussion with other classmates. Do they have the same opinions?

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I discuss a hypothetical problem with my partner.

☐ ☐

We come up with solutions.

☐ ☐

I share the results of the discussion with other people and compare our ideas.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to plagiarize (verb): to copy another person's work without giving them credit
e.g. For example, once they asked me how I would deal with a journalist whom I suspected was plagiarising.
- plagiarism (noun): copying another person's work without giving them credit e.g. You could try to find proof of plagiarism before you say anything.
- straightforward (adjective): clear; easy to follow
e.g. Questions about my experiences or education are fairly straightforward.
- hypothetical (adjective): imaginary; something that could happen in the future
e.g. I have a hard time when they describe a hypothetical situation and ask me how I would react.
- to suspect (verb): to think; to imagine
e.g. For example, once they asked me how I would deal with a journalist whom I suspected was plagiarising.

Learning Points

The Future with Will, Going to and the Present Continuous Tense

You can use different tenses to talk about the future. Each of them has their own use. It is important to understand the difference between each structure.

When you talk about things that are not decided or when you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future, you use the modal will.

For example:

I'll have to prepare better answers for my next interview.

When you ask or talk about intentions, you use be going to.

For example:

I know I'm going to get nervous and lose control.

When you talk about things that are arranged, on the agenda or booked for the future, you use the Present Continuous tense.

For example:

I'm calling her next week to ask for a follow-up.

Examples:

- I'm going to practice for the interview.
- I'm having an interview tomorrow at 3 p.m.
- I'll call you later so we can practice!

Learning Points

The Future Continuous and Future Perfect Tenses

Look at the chart for information about the Future Continuous and Future Perfect tenses:

Structure	Meaning/Use	Example
Future Continuous will (not) + be + v-ing	to talk about something happening at a particular time in the future - the action will have started before that moment but it will not have finished at that moment	I will be thinking about what to say all week. I will be practicing for the interview this time tomorrow.
Future Perfect will + have + past participle	to talk about something that will be complete by a certain time in the future	By the end of the month, I will have had four different interviews. I'll have answered all the questions by the end of the interview.

